

Santa Comba Gestión, parent company of Cobas Asset Management, exits Equam Capital and maintains its stake in Palm Harbour Capital LLP.

Madrid, July 8, 2021. Santa Comba Gestión, parent company of Cobas Asset Management, announces its exit from Equam Capital. The transaction, part of the strategy of promoting other value managers by supporting them in their growth and consolidation process, closes with the sale of a significant but minority stake acquired in November 2017.

"With the satisfaction of having supported a project based on trust and having fulfilled the objectives of this successful collaboration, the time has come to end the support of Santa Comba that has allowed Equam Capital to achieve its current positioning and robustness," explains Francisco García Paramés co-founder of the Santa Comba family holding company and chairman of Cobas Asset Management.

Alejandro Muñoz, co-founder of Equam, comments that "It has been a great privilege to have the support of Santa Comba over the last three and a half years. Equam has emerged stronger from several stock market crises and has considerably improved its distribution capacity exceeding 50 million assets under management."

In line with its firm commitment to improving investors' alternatives for diversifying their savings, Santa Comba remains a founding partner of the British asset manager Palm Harbour Capital LLP and continues to promote value projects and managers through conferences and events organized by Value School.
